On Monday, November 18 the Otsego County Conservation Association will present its “Conservationist of the Year” award to co-recipients David Hutchison and Richard McCaffery. “Dave and Rich are being recognized for their dedication and behind-the-scenes contributions toward the protection, preservation, and improvement of the environment through community service,” said OCCA President Vicky Lentz. The award ceremony is part of OCCA’s Annual Dinner and Meeting, to be held at The Depot Restaurant and Tavern in Oneonta. This event will also include a presentation by Jan Myers of Solarize New York/Solarize Madison and a silent auction. Tickets to the OCCA Annual Dinner and Meeting are $35.00 per person. Dinner is a choice of prime rib, chicken marsala or eggplant spinach parmesan; seating is limited and preregistration is required. Call \(607\) 547-4488 or see http://www.occainfo.org/documents/Invite2013_001.pdf for details.
