2011/2012 Recycling: Above and Beyond

Recycling: Above and Beyond

The average American throws away 5 lbs. of “waste” every day – nearly one ton a year! Much of this discarded material need not wind up in a landfill. This brochure provides practical alternatives to throwing things away – alternatives that go above and beyond Otsego County’s recycling program.

Otsego County Recycling & Hazardous Waste Collection Programs

Household Hazardous Waste Collection Day

Safely dispose of:

- Batteries – auto and household batteries, other than carbon zinc and alkaline batteries, which can go in the trash
- fluorescent light bulbs
- aerosol cans
- paints, stains and shellac
- garden and household chemicals
- pharmaceuticals
- propane tanks
- NO ELECTRONICS

This annual event is usually held in early fall. For information, call: Otsego County Solid Waste Dept., 607-547-4225, or check their website, www.otsegocounty.com/depts/sw/
To volunteer call OCCA, 607-547-4488 or 547-4020.

OCCA, Otsego County's leading recycling advocate, and Otsego County Solid Waste Department team up to bring recycling information to all residents.

Recycling demonstrates respect for the earth's limited resources. By recycling, we reduce the amount of virgin materials used to manufacture consumer items. Recycling also reduces air and water pollution caused by the manufacture of additional products and transportation for disposal of these same items. Finally, recycling preserves open space for better uses than landfills.

Over the years, OCCA has supported recycling through:

- Recycling bins – Main St., Cooperstown; Cooperstown Central School Recycling Program; Cooperstown Village Library Book Recycling, Earth Festival at Milford Central School in April
- Volunteer recruitment for Household Hazardous Waste Collection Day plus initiation of new items for collection
- Public education . . . like this recycling guide!

OCCA believes that until industry is required to recycle the waste and packaging it creates, local efforts at recycling will remain at the mercy of a fickle economic system that favors quantity over quality and short-term profit over the long-term general good. OCCA will continue to lobby at the state and federal level on these issues. We need to prevail upon both state and federal governments to devise recycling solutions that take into account the costs of production and consumption. We support product stewardship efforts.

OCCA will revise this brochure periodically. Please contact us at 607-547-4488, 547-4020 or admin@occainfo.org if you know of other establishments accepting items included or not included in the current brochure, or if you have found inaccuracies in our information.

Thank you for respecting the 3R's . . . Reduce! • Reuse! • Recycle!
